WAR-GUERRILLA WARFARE PREVAILS ALONG BORDER

Liberals of Vermilion Constituency Are Unanimous in Their Selection.

HON. CHAS. MITCHELL ADDRESSES MEETING

Leader of Opposition States Greenfield on Natural Resources Question.

Buffalo, N.Y., June 10.—Recent statements by federal officials here that a "latent attitude" on the part of Canadian customs men toward illegal smuggling prompted the United States to increase its guard along the Niagara frontier, have aroused intense interest here in the steps which are being taken to prevent or decrease smuggling activities.

Newspaper men who have inspected the arrangements have found a scene almost bordering on guerrilla warfare, with United States customs men, supported by coast-guard men aboard their small submersible, sharply opposing the wily group of runners, skilful in navigation and familiar with every corner and landing place in the Niagara River.

The United States officers are stationed, for the most part, on a large island in the river—Grand Island—a short distance north of this city, where the narrowness of the river on each side and the sparsely settled district make conditions quite to the liking of the runners.

At a vantage point in Grand Island, one of the men continually keeps watch of the creek mouth, using a spy-glass.

Along the banks of the creek, somewhere, there has loitered for several days a "mysterious" fisherman, ostensibly intent upon his pleasure, but whose real role is known to bootleggers and customs men alike to be that of "informer" for the United States coast-guard men.

The answer from the minister, Charles Stewart, minister of the interior, was:

"Quite right," said E. J. Garland, member of the House of Commons. "The government is giving them no encouragement. The matter we get a railway in that country, and the rest of it."

Stewart said that settlers could not go in there, but that they could go in there. "They go in anyway," he remarked.

"And come out again," Mr. Spencer said.

BATH, Maine, June 10.—Commander Donald B. MacMillan came here today to inspect the water and land conditions of the vessels which will start on the trip to the north, which is now undergoing general repairs and outfitting.

MacMillan declined to discuss the details of the mission which he said to have asked the state department to undertake. He said the attitude of the government toward the expedition was "very favorable" and that he hoped his explorations this summer and the next would be successful, which he may claim for the United States.

OTTAWA, June 10.—(By Canadian Press).—"What encouragement is the government giving to homesteaders in the Peace River districts?" asked a reporter. "None," replied Hon. Hattie Field, minister of the interior, in the house tonight.

The question was replied Hon. Charles Stewart, minister of the interior, "Quite right," said E. J. Garland, "Government," now E. J. Garland, "The government is giving them no encouragement. The sooner we get a railway in the Peace River country the better."

Mr. Stewart said that settlers could not get any encouragement from the government. "They go on anyway," he remarked. "And come out again," Mr. Spencer said.

TEMPERATURE AND PROLIFITY.

Parliament got through with Mr. Meighen's motion for high tariff in a day. In January a controversy on that subject would last for a week. Perhaps the way to get shorter sessions is to hold them in hot weather.

NO NEWS IS GOOD NEWS.

The member for Athabasca says the redistribution committee has done nothing as yet, but that if it does anything it will probably out down the number of city representatives in the Legislature. In that event the committee will conserve the public interests by continuing to do nothing.

WHY LINGER LONGER?

Lethbridge reports that a few districts in that part of the Province need rain. They are in a hopeless minority, taking the whole prairie country into account. The redistribution committee has not had rain enough, and some to spare, this season is entitled to be considered lucky to drought, and its residents would make no mistake if they prepared to shift to some other locality.

THE OLD FLAG GOOD ENOUGH.

A committee at Ottawa is wrestling with the question of what kind of a flag Canada is to have, and is inviting suggestions from the public as to the most suitable national emblem. The committee can hardly do better than adopt the red ensign with the Canadian arms in the fly. That has been the banner displayed over the office of the Canadian High Commissioner at London and at the offices of Canadian trade agents and consular representatives abroad. It has been unofficially accepted quite generally in Canada and is conspicuous on national holidays in all parts of the country. Unless there is good reason to make a change why make one?

THE INDIRECT TREATMENT.

The Criminal Code is being amended so as to forbid newspapers to publish information which might be supposed to influence people who want to bet on horse races, prize fights, and other athletic and competitive events. That will do no harm to the prestige of papers which have been run as side-kicks of bookmakers and other easy-money chanks. Whether it will stop betting or do nothing in that direction is another matter. People who are so anxious to get rid of money that they bet the way somebody said through a newspaper that he would like them to bet are probably likely to discover some other means of finding out how to get rid of it.

ANOTHER LEAGUE OF "NATIONS."

Representatives of all the Indian tribes from the Saskatchewan to Montana are to meet at Macleod to form an association whose business will be to advance the interests and protect the rights of the original holders of the soil. That such a gathering is possible is proof of how far the red man has turned from the ways of his fathers. And the object of it shows that he is becoming more conscious. Not so long ago a pow-wow of the kind would have spelled menace to the white settlers on the plains. Now it means only that the Indian is developing the instinct of self-preservation and self-betterment by instruments other than those of war. Perhaps he has in mind to ask for the right to vote!

ONE COMPETITOR LESS.

The United States has ceased to produce cattle for export. Apparently it is nearing the time when it will no longer export wheat. The crop of the present year is estimated to be about equal to the home demand. It is smaller than the crop of last year the shrinkage is not all due to unfavorable weather conditions, but in part to the development of other branches of agriculture.

Another and large competitor of Canada in the markets of Europe and the Orient is thus prospectively out of the running this season, and approaching the time when it will consume all the wheat it produces. The outlook is correspondingly bright for the Canadian grower who will be able to find buyers for all the wheat he grows and to get a price for it that will leave him a living profit.

CHALLENGING CANADIAN SOVEREIGNTY.
Mr. Donald B. McMillan wants to know what Washington will do in the event that a controversy arises as to the ownership of land which he may discover in that part of the Arctic country lying north of Canada. Which may be taken to mean that Mr. McMillan intends to claim United States' ownership of any such land, and to thereby bring about the "conquering" he speaks of.

It was to head off adventures of the McMillan type that the Minister of the Interior last week reasserted the claim of Canada to the Arctic and heretofore unchallenged claim to proprietorship of all the islands lying north of the Dominion "clear up to the pole." Evidently that reassertion of Canadian sovereignty was not made any too soon.

FRANCE STARTING TO FIGHT.

France has apparently decided that the Rif flauts ought not to be allowed to do all the fighting and that the time has come for a real offensive against Abd el Kader and his followers. Moroccan leader has gained a measure of success and of prestige which he could not have gained had the French authorities taken his challenge seriously at the outset. As a result he has made probably more soldiers and run up a larger bill of expense than would have occurred had it taken the aggressive course.

The moral is an old one, but one which a powerful and civilized nation hesitates to act upon when it has to deal with an inferior power or a native tribe. When war has to be, the more warlike it is made the sooner it will be over and the cheaper the settlement. "Soft war" is a poor policy from any standpoint save that of the enemy.

THE TRIAL COAL SHIPMENT.

The official formalities are said to have been completed in connection with the proposed trial shipment of Alberta coal to Ontario under the seven dollar experimental freight rate. That in itself does not mean that the shipments will start automatically, now or any time. Some time ago the Ontario Government issued a statement explaining what it wanted and would not do to facilitate the trade. The Government would not, it was stated, either buy Alberta coal for resale or guarantee payment for coal ordered from Alberta mines. Dealers and consumers were invited to file orders with the Ontario fuel controller for coal from whatever Alberta mine they preferred. The Government would undertake to sort out these orders and forward them in batches, thus enabling the mine operators to make up carloads destined for points in Ontario.

The actual making of the experiment was therefore to depend upon the Ontario fuel dealers and householders. Whether and to what extent their order coal will determine how useful or useless the trial will be as a test of the practicability of supplying the fuel requirements of that province from Alberta mines. If coal is ordered in sufficient quantity a brisk trade will develop. Otherwise the efforts made by the governments of the two provinces, and the money posted by the Federal Government as a guarantee to the railways against loss in handling the coal at the reduced rate, will be in vain.

It is pertinent to note that Alberta's rivals in Ontario have not been neglecting the situation, but ignoring the wisdom of filling up all the bins they could before the Alberta arrangement came into effect. The Pennsylvania operators are pushing business in that province as usual and perhaps with more than usual energy. And many of the widely circulating newspapers of the province have for weeks been carrying large advertisements for Welsh coal. These advertisements inserted by dealers who have laid in large stocks in advance and are anxious to capture trade before the western competitor gets into the field. It is no fault of these rivals if orders enough can be got to make the shipments from Alberta large enough to be important in themselves or conclusive as to the feasibility of building up a regular trade.

Red Deer defeated Wetaskiwin at baseball at Red Deer on Saturday by the score of 7 to 3.

The fire brigade acknowledged with thanks the receipt of a cheque for $15 from J. L. Cote in recognition of their services on Sunday.

The construction of the new granite hotel along Jasper Avenue is progressing well and promises to be completed. The mowing of these men has a new thing in Edmonton, a large number of people are to be seen at all times of the day watching the game of men at work.

The Edmonton cricket team went to the Port on Saturday by steamer and won a game with the Port by 10 wickets and 74 runs. Conditions were not very good for the game. H. R. Mountfield distinguished himself well while for the home side the bowling of Chaney was worthy of comment.

The large Hudson's Bay steamer is expected up from Prince Albert the latter part of this week.

Excavation for the addition to Alberta College is being rapidly pushed and the foundation construction will begin almost immediately.

The Junior baseball team defeated St. Albert last Friday evening at that place by the score of 5-0. Owing to the poor grounds the game was rather slow.

G. Leonard returned from a trip to Battledore on Saturday.

Current Comment

CRIMES OF THE FRAY

Vancouver Bait: Everybody should cultivate individualism, but never at an intersection of busy streets.

Toronto Globe: Mr. Meighen says a higher tariff will bring more revenue. Sir Henry Dwyer says that $75,000,000 worth of goods now imported since the outbreak. The Canadian Manufacturers' Association pointed out that last year's dutiable imports were valued at $151,900,000. Somebody is queering the pitch.

Calgary Albertan: The yellow peril becomes a reality when Chinese laborers are used as strike breakers, as is being done at the Nanaimo coal mines.

Montreal Herald: Of all glad words that signs can say, the gladdest are these three: "Park all day."

Saskatoon Star: The importance of Mr. Meighen's motion is that it lets the country know where he stands and what his party would do if put in power. A conservative victory in the next Dominion election would be followed at once by a general and substantial increase in the tariff.

Alberta	121	83
Manitoba	114	83

THE BRITISH BUDGET

Edmonton Sun:
The new British budget takes into full account the scheduled payments of $146,000,000 of war debt to this country this year. It does not rely on a single cent of new taxation, or interest on new loans, or a new law by war debtors. A nation which can run its finances like that, paying its way, meeting all debts scrupulously, restoring the gold standard by natural means, is one which will win the admiration of the human race.

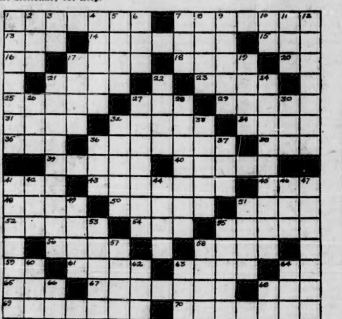

The struggle of the British people from the valley of the war is not the least remarkable and heroic incident of their long history.

PREPARE EXPENSIVE BURIAL FOR GANGSTER

CHICAGO, June 10.—Chicago's gangland agent is planning a lavish funeral for one of his fallen leaders, Walter O'Donnell, beer runner, who was slain mysteriously in a suburban residential east Sunday.

Eight of O'Donnell's brothers are busy planning for his funeral on Friday and "Smiler" the leader of the O'Donnell forces, predicted it would be the best funeral in the city. As the burial ceremonies of Dion O'Banion, convicted in 1924, were the most prominent of underworld figures killed in recent months.

A huge altar and steel casket which weighs 1,000 pounds, received O'Donnell's body yesterday.

O'Donnell will be the ninth prominent gangster to be buried in the local cemetery in recent years. Each of the nine was slain.

SENATOR MCCALL DIES WEDNESDAY AT SIMCOE

SIMCOE, Ont., June 10.—Senator Alexander McCall, who has been ill for some weeks at his home here, died this morning in his 81st year. Shortly after the opening of the session of the senate the aged legislator was taken ill and remained in his home. At one time there was some improvement in his condition, but this was not maintained and the end came this morning.

Senator McCall was born at Charlestown, of Scottish parentage. His parents emigrated from Scotland to Wolfe at Quebec and also on the king's side in the American revolution. He was born in 1744, settled on Lake Erie shore in Norfolk county. Alexander McCall was born in 1841 and was educated in public schools of Norfolk. He was a lumber merchant and entered politics in 1884 when he was elected a member of the house of commons as a Conservative. He was appointed to the red chamber in 1913.
